

Exhaust air reuse generator

Overview

Highlights: ► Exhaust air energy recovery system to recover part of the energy in discharged air. ► An innovative way to generate electricity and reduce CO2 emission. These advantages will result in the installation of wind generators at low wind speed zones to. Cain Industries manufacturers waste heat recovery and steam generator systems for the cogeneration (CHP), boiler economizer and industrial heat exchanger markets. It is a fact that a minimum of twenty cents of every fuel dollar is wasted, when instead, much of it can be recovered. Cain Industries. However, the energy efficiency of the pneumatic system is very low at about 10 to 20% The exhaust air from pneumatic machines has high energy, which is considered waste. The enclosure enhances the performance of the VAWT.
