

Malaysia communication base station hybrid energy construction

Overview

Khodamoradi, Vahid (2021) Energy-efficient base station transmission design for green 5G massive MIMO and hybrid networks. Doctoral thesis, Universiti Putra Malaysia. Cellular network operators are always seeking to increase the area of coverage of their networks, open up new markets and provide services to potential customers in remote rural areas. However, the true potential of 5G lies beyond the network - in its ability and short-term operation of the energy storage are interconnected. Therefore, a two-layer optimization model was established to optimize the. However, increased energy consumption, operator energy cost, and the potential environmental impact of increased greenhouse gas emissions and the exhaustion of non-renewable energy resources (fossil fuel) pose major challenges to cellular network operators. This aims to accelerate deployment and ensure equitable access.
