

Solar energy storage system to reduce peak load and fill valley

Overview

Explore how energy storage systems enable peak shaving and valley filling to reduce electricity costs, stabilize the grid, and improve renewable energy integration. This combined approach transforms intermittent renewable generation into a dispatchable, baseload-capable energy asset. Together, they optimize energy consumption and reduce costs. Instead of allowing consumption to briefly spike above a certain level, peak shaving strategies smooth the building's load profile by keeping. This paper proposes a deep reinforcement learning-based framework for optimizing photovoltaic (PV) and energy storage system scheduling.
