

Solar module grade A panel

Overview

Grade A solar panels are entirely free of defects. Naturally, this system leads to many interpretations of visual and performance. Learn how solar panels are graded (A, B, C, D), their applications, and why quality matters. Solar panels are graded into categories A, B, C, and D based on their quality, and the cost differences between these grades can be. And once you've figured out what kind of solar panels, made of which material, you need to decide what grade to get. These grades are typically assigned during or after the panel manufacturing and testing process, particularly during electroluminescence (EL) testing. So what kind of solar panel is called A grade, and what kind of solar panel is called D grade?

Here is a brief. Any deviation is often graded as B, however a correct classification is complicated because there are dozens of different solar cell defects that can occur.
