

Winter sun shining on photovoltaic panels

Overview

Yes, solar panels work in winter. They generate electricity even on cloudy days. Do they produce enough energy in colder months?

Solar panels rely on sunlight, not heat, to. PV systems are also reliable electricity generators in the winter months, albeit with lower yields because the sun is lower and the days are shorter. However, contrary to popular belief, cold and snow can actually have a positive effect on performance. Read on to find out why this is the case, how. Cold Weather Actually Boosts Solar Efficiency: Solar panels operate 10-13% more efficiently in winter temperatures of 32°F compared to their rated capacity at 77°F, as electrons move more freely and electrical resistance decreases in cooler conditions. But that doesn't mean they need day after day of warm, sunny weather to operate.
